On Sunday 23rd November in St Michael's Church at 4.30 pm, Lyme Bay Chorale is performing an exciting concert conducted by Musical Director, Alex Davies with professional chamber orchestra, musicians and singers brought together to present a Winter Baroque Concert consisting of Handel's Foundling Hospital Mass, Vivaldi's Dixit Dominus RV595, excerpts from Purcell's Ode to St Cecelia.

This will be our most ambitious concert to date and promises to be a wonderful feast of spectacular music! We are particularly delighted to have Phillipa Hyde joining our team of local professional soloists which include; Chloe Stratta, Julie De'Ath Lancaster, Leslie Baker and David Fouracre. Phillipa is an internationally acclaimed soprano, a member of the chamber group Musicke Company and regularly performs with the Academy of Ancient Music. She has performed with many of the leading period orchestras and regularly appears at the South Bank and Wigmore Hall.

Philippa will share singing the solo movements and join singing the soprano duets with the talented aspiring local soprano ,Chloe Strata, who has recently had the opportunity to meet up and work with Philippa for this concert thus providing another fantastic opportunity to further the young singer's career.

The Chamber Orchestra
